Dear Mr. Martin,

Too many times General Contractors fail to recognize those good subs that go beyond the norm to work to make a job move forward and stay on top of the work. On behalf of The DeMoss Company I would like to personally thank your firm for helping us out on the project and for the way in which you're firm paid attention to the work. This job has not been one that has gone as smoothly as all of us had anticipated when we bid the project. Certainly the two companies had never worked together before so that made the project a learning experience for both of us.

I would like to tell you that we really appreciated the way that Pat Olsen handled things during the project. Pat's professional approach to construction management, scheduling with the field and prompt problem solving was great. The on site supervisor Randy Deering was the man for the project in the field and he did a good job of juggling installation crews and Centennials needs to make changes on the fly. Both of these employees speak well of JBI Electrical Systems, Inc. and it ability to do what it takes to make the job work. The DeMoss Company would be glad to have these men back on other projects and looks upon JBI Electrical Systems, Inc. as a preferred subcontractor.

The DeMoss Company appreciated your bid on bid day and what your firm has done during the construction. We look forward to doing business with your firm in the near future.

Yours truly,

John P. Allen
Vice President
